From Editor's Desk

Dear Readers, Greetings!

First of all I wish a happy new year 2025 for all readers, authors and students. With SCOPUS indexing status our journal, we are further moving ahead to widen the scope of this journal. Happy to be associated with our peer reviewer's team, editorial team and publisher's team.

This issue focused mainly on vital topics like AI in dermatology, rise of syphilis, vitiligo with deafness, fisherman dermatomes etc. will be more attractive to readers, and it will be a textual gift to all. Without all your support we couldn't have reached this stage. As I was the editor in chief positions for longer period, and because of hectic academic activities, and going to take the post of president of Tamil Nādu IADVL dermatologist association, planning to leave way to youngsters. I will be happily signing off from this post. I welcome the new Editor in Chief to reach newer heights with the supporting editorial member's team.

I also thank all the authors for prioritizing our journal, publishing top quality research activities at the best. Thank all the Deans, administrative faculties, Medical Education Unit, teachers and residents to extend your support by subscribing our journal in College libraries and departments. Kindly continue your support with quality studies, original articles whichever is relevant to dermatology, cosmetology, aesthetics, paediatric and geriatric dermatology can get published. Recent advances in dermatology therapeutics, therapeutic trials are more frequently cited.

In IJCED one can publish under various categories: Personal view, review articles, original papers, professional papers, preliminary reports, and reviews of scientific meeting and book reviews.

We appreciate the tireless efforts by our innovative team in quick online processing and faster communication with corresponding authors and reviewers.

Happy reading.
